Registration is free. Email ekashefi@inf.ed.ac.uk to register, to provide details on poster abstract (if presenting), and to request travel assistance for Students and Early Stage Researchers, by the 19th March 2008. More information on the network and full programme details can be found at the website: www.quisco.org.uk

QuISco will target a wide range of audience and not only the specialists in the field. If you are interested in any aspect of Quantum Information Science, we hope you will support this initiative by your attendance.

QuISco aims to promote a research community of physicists, computer scientists and mathematicians in Scotland, encourage dialogue amongst the diverse spectrum of disciplines, and facilitate collaboration.
